

THE NOW

When walking down the street, recognize that all we have is now. Embrace every single fleeting moment. Forget about the past, and don't worry about the future. Simply empty your mind and find yourself in a state of wonder and awe.

"The mundane existence of everyday life is worth finding beauty within..."