

VITALITY

My mind and body eclipse like a totality

With vigor and strength, I march with a strong gait. Cultivate spartan discipline, and defend the gate of your inner state.

My camera is the sword and the street is my battlefield. I've got a 40 pound plate carrier on, I don't need a shield

When you're full of vitality, you increase your curiosity and cut through reality

Every moment becomes a chance to shape your destiny
