

Aphorisms from My Snapshot Philosophy

1. “Stop thinking and just shoot.”
2. “The photograph is merely a reflection of your soul, of your inner voice, of your inner spirit.”
3. “You cannot make the same photograph twice.”
4. “This is where the imperfection in our compositions can sing.”
5. “When I click the shutter, it’s this feeling of life affirmation.”
6. “What we can control as a photographer is very simple: where you position your physical body in the world in relationship to the subject and the background, and when you press the shutter.”
7. “Ultimately, when I’m photographing things, I’m simply asking a simple question: what will reality manifest to be in a photograph today?”
8. “Maybe you can’t live forever, but at least you can make a photograph.”
