

My Creative Workflow

Opening — Joy, Simplicity, Freedom

- The goal of the photographer is simple: fall in love with life, every day.
- Workflow = fewer decisions, more seeing. Simplicity → Speed → Joy.
- Treat everything as a work in progress. Publish, learn, evolve.

Why Share

- Why share your perspective, art, videos, photos, or thoughts?
- Sharing raw and authentically gives life depth and meaning.

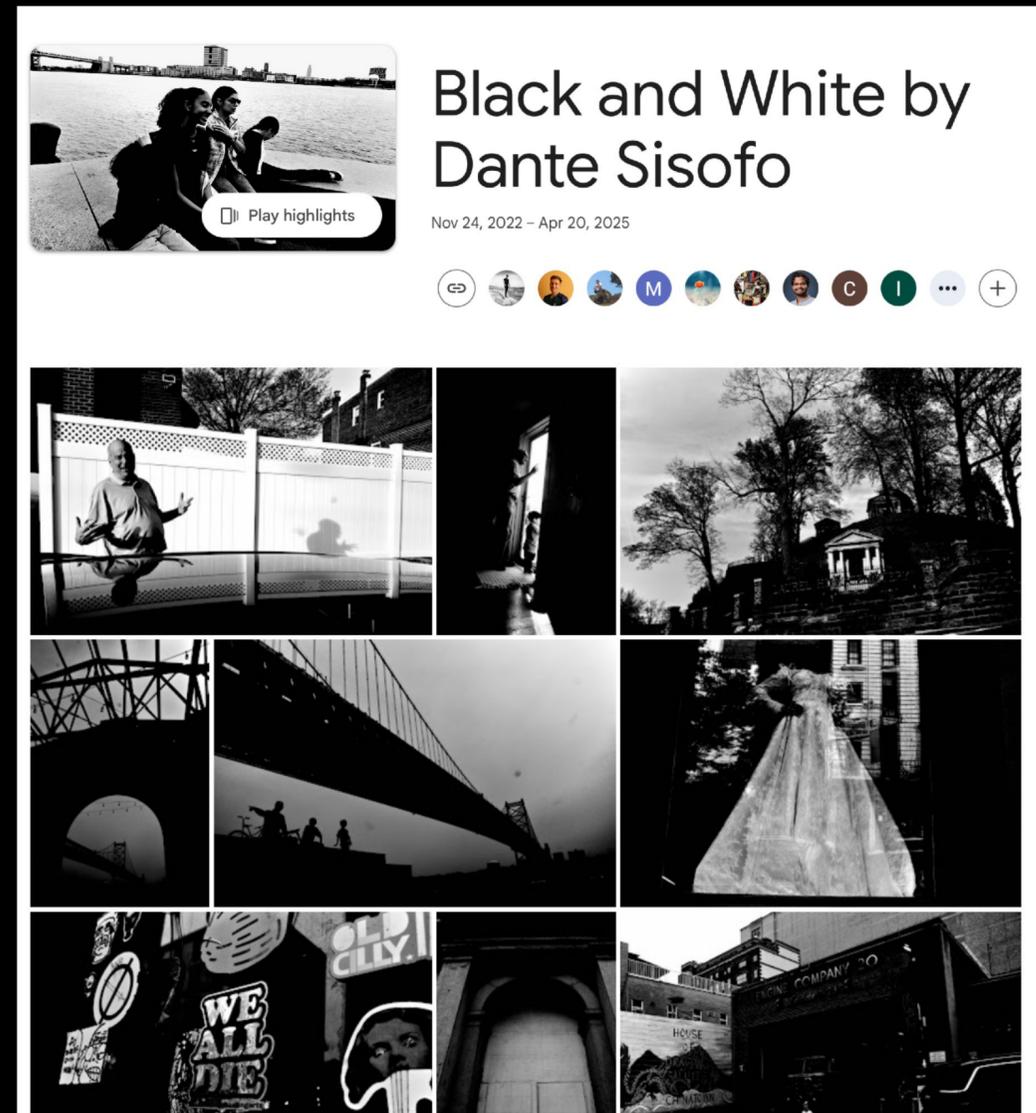

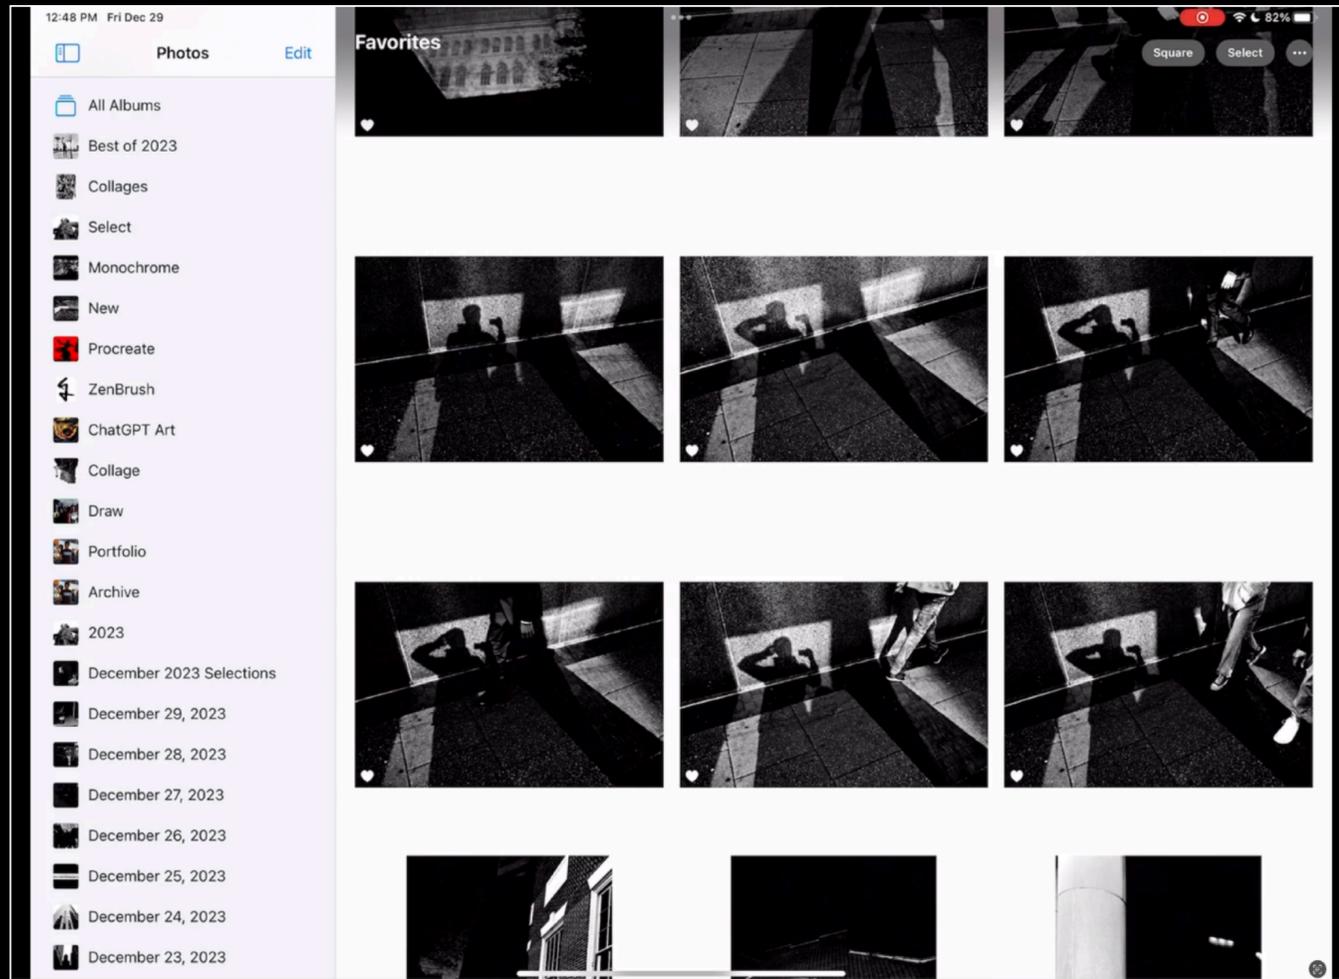

What Camera I Use

iPad Pro = Best Creative Tool

Editing Workflow

Sharing Without Attachments

- Use simple tools like the GoPro Mini — no LCD, no attachments.
- Treat it as a floating oracle to capture your thoughts.
- Share to propagate your voice, not to seek validation.
- Keeps your passion alive; every share augments reality.

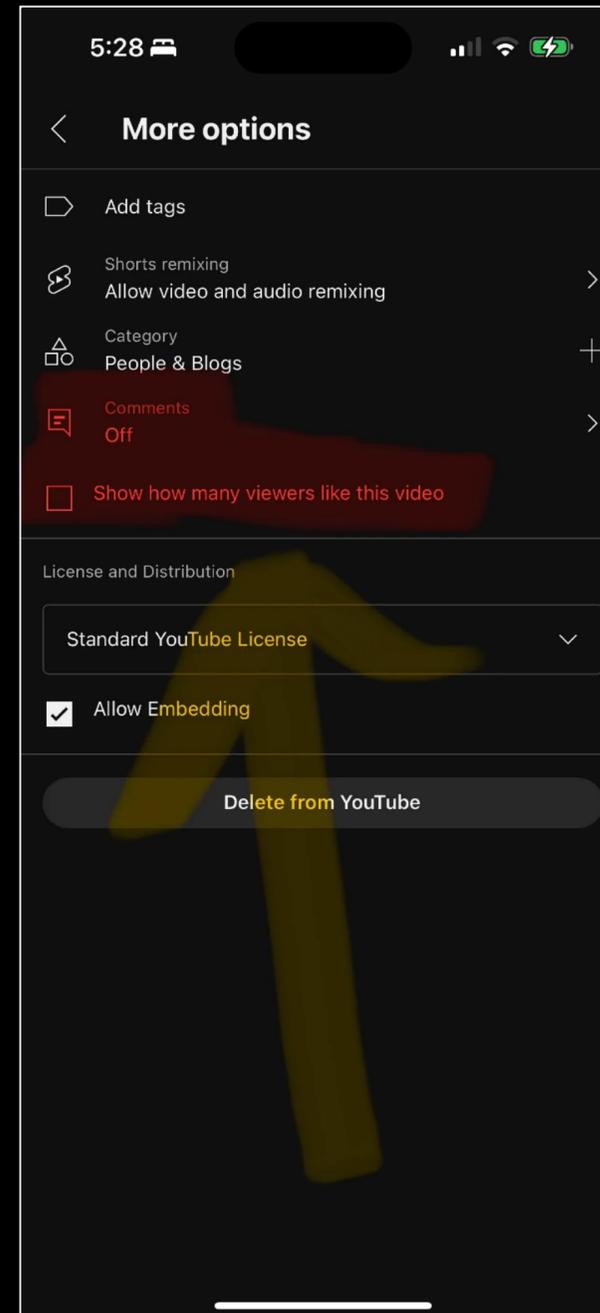

Breaking the Curation Cycle

- Social media = highlights and illusions.
- Share candidly — create because you love to, not for likes.
- Everyone's unique perspective is worth viewing and sharing.

The Philosophy of Creation

- Disconnect from audience metrics → flow state.
- Without validation, create from play → life gains meaning.
- Feedback loops feed algorithms — focus on self, not crowd.

Why Make Videos

- Videos = memory, meditation, and philosophy.
- GoPro = visual diary
→ speak raw, candid, uncut.
- Helps uncover truths, builds purpose, fuels discipline.

Canon Selphy CP1500

Why Photograph

- Photography = greatest artistic medium ever.
- Requires being on the front lines of life.
- Explorer mindset; camera as excuse to see the world.

The Ethos of Creation

- Create unplanned and spontaneous.
- Don't hunt; trust life to come to you.
- Be ready, be open — the world delivers.

Embracing the Spirit of Play

- Every act of creation = affirmation of life.
- Play = discovery, joy, meaning.
- Let go of rules and perfection.

Procreate Collage

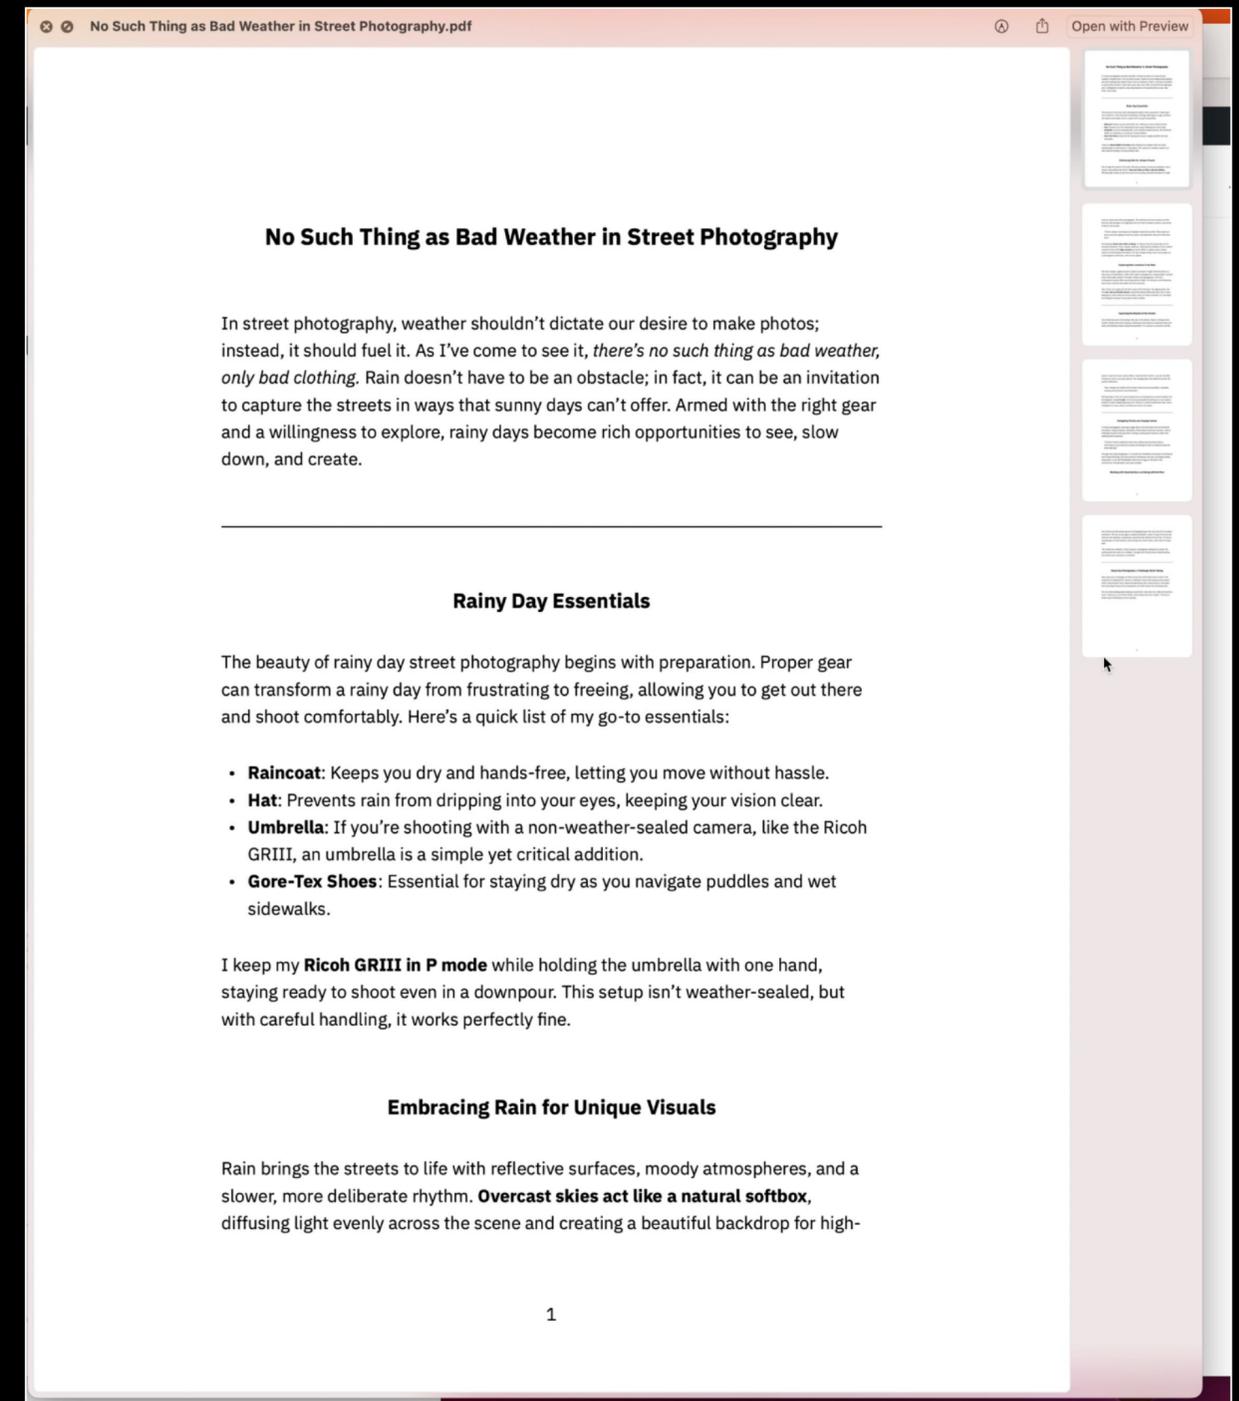

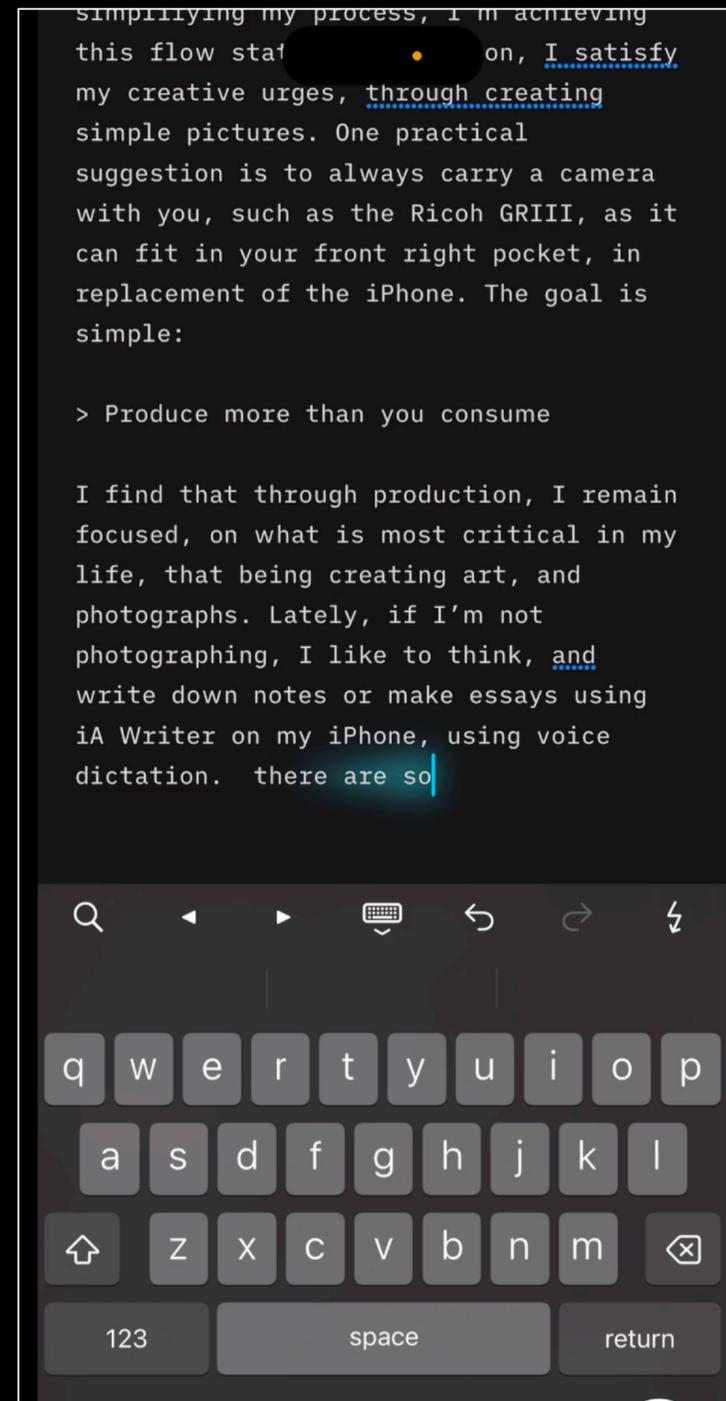

The Journeyer

- Life = journey, not destination.
- Each photo/video = a step along the path.
- Process > product.
Philosophy gives life meaning.
